Guns, Cash Taken From Beaver Creek Residence

On Thursday, April 20th, between 10:00 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. the LaForge residence on 5-Mile Road in Beaver Creek Township was broken into with over $10,000 in valuables stolen. The owners' entire gun collection was stolen as well as a large amount of cash while the family was gone during the day. Anyone with any information involving the B&E is urged to call the Crawford County Sheriff Dept.

The LaForge family is offering a cash reward to anyone who can provide information leading to the conviction of the person(s) responsible. Deputies are following up on several leads, however, any information is of great value.

2 Suspects Arrested In Camp Grayling Theft

In the early morning hours of Monday, April 17, deputies from the Crawford County Sheriff's Department arrested two men for the crime of Larceny Over $100, a felony punishable by up to 5 years imprisonment.

The two suspects in custody had cut through the fence at the Ammunition Supply Point at Camp Grayling and then taken several expended artillery casings out through the hole they had cut.

At this time the Sheriff's Department is in contact with the F.B.I. and the Federal District Attorney's Office in reference to Federal prosecution, but federal prosecution may be waived and the suspects could be prosecuted locally.

All of the property stolen from the Ammunition Supply Point is believed to have been recovered at this time.

County's Growth Topic For Community Meeting

Georgia-Pacific's proposed formaldehyde factory, River Bend's golf course, and the direction of industrial growth in Crawford County will all be discussed at an open community meeting on Thursday, April 27, at 7:30 p.m. at the Crawford County Court-house.

Richard Walle, an industrial hygienist from Toledo, Ohio, as well as representatives from the AuSable-Manistee Action Council, and the Sierra Club will be attending the meeting to address individual concerns.

"Every decision we make regarding the expansion of our area is complex," said Linda Caswell, "and we are going to have to live with the consequences of our decisions for years to come."

Caswell, resident of the Manistee, said that the public meeting was called to enable citizens concerned about the environment and county growth a means to sort out the issues and facts regarding the safety of the populace and the protection of the environment. For more information call Linda Caswell, 348-4984.

Two Blood Banks Set For Next Week May 3-4

On Wednesday, May 3rd, there will be a blood drive at Grayling High School in the gym, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Blood is needed badly, so please plan to donate.

If you cannot make it to the GHS blood bank, there is another one to be held at Frederic Elementary School on Thursday, May 4 from 4 p.m. till 8:00 p.m.

13th Annual Dawn Patrol Here Sunday, April 30

The Kirtland Aviation Chapter of Kirtland Community College will present its 13th Annual Dawn Patrol on Sunday, April 30, at its facility at the Grayling McNamara Airport.

An aerobatic show will be held from 11:45 until 12:15 p.m. (weather permitting), featuring Don Forton and his Steen Skybolt. A pancake and sausage breakfast will be going on from 7:30 until 11:30 a.m. ($3.50 adults, $1.50 children under 12), and sloppy joes, hot dogs and soda will be available after 11 a.m. There will be tours of the facilities, display of experimental aircraft, military aircraft, and antique cars.

A door prize drawing will be held at 11 a.m. and you must be present to win. Admission to this family event is free.

G-P Moves Ahead With Proposed Expansion

By Irene Petty-John

Georgia-Pacific Corporation has decided to proceed with the proposed expansion plans and is in the process of submitting ground-water and air emission permit applications with the Department of Natural Resources.

Joseph Newman, manager of the Beaver Creek resin plant, said that Georgia-Pacific feels that they have received sufficient input from the community to proceed to the permit stage of construction of the formaldehyde manufacturing plant.

Georgia-Pacific representatives have either held or attended ten community meetings and said that at nine of the ten meetings they received positive responses.

Newman said that even at the public meeting in Grayling, where the project received criticism, the criticism, he said, was not primarily directed at Georgia-Pacific. "Interestingly enough," said Newman, "they seemed to be more concerned about the resources and about the general direction that the county is going, and not specifically a problem with us."

"If you added up all the people that we have met with, which at this point must be nearly 250 people," continued Newman, "we have had an overall positive response."

In response to concerns expressed by residents, Georgia-Pacific has modified their permit applications to expand on how they would react to several "what-if" situations. Georgia-Pacific said that they will make these modifications available to the public at a later date.

The permitting process will take between three and five months to complete, and Newman said that Georgia-Pacific intends to continue polling the communities and, if needed, continue to modify their permit. Meetings are scheduled with Mercy Hospital on April 27, the Kiwanis on May 8, and the Grayling Promotional Association on May 23.

Newman said that public meetings usually generate negative responses just as business groups are usually a positive segment of the community.

"We need to look beyond the special groups and determine where the true sentiment lies," said Newman. "We accomplish this by listening to our everyday personal contacts, and I continue to get a good response there."

Newman said that Georgia-Pacific's permit applications should be received by the DNR sometime this week.

Governor Seeks Camp Grayling — Community Accord

Governor James J. Blanchard directed the Department of Military Affairs on April 20 to implement proposals balancing National Guard training activities with recreational use of the Camp Grayling area.

Major General Vernon J. Andrews, director of the Department of Military Affairs, will implement recommendations on all 47 issues contained in a report of the Camp Grayling Management Advisory Committee in January, Gov. Blanchard said.

"The hard work of the committee, General Andrews and the Department of Military Affairs has produced a breakthrough in efforts to resolve the controversy over Camp Grayling training activities and recreational use of the surrounding area," the Governor said.

Ronald Steffens, advisory committee chairman, said: "The process was a success. I am confident these recommendations will alleviate most of the concerns raised."

To implement the committee report, the Governor will:

— Appoint a Camp Grayling Advisory Council to provide a continuing public forum for the next two years to discuss conflicts, and monitor and assist — as appropriate — implementation of recommendations. Military Affairs also will be asked to appoint community response coordinators to work with the camp commander and the advisory council to respond to specific concerns by the public.

— Direct Military Affairs to hold a public meeting in Grayling on the guard's long-range training plans for Camp Grayling.

— Direct the DNR to assess environmental conditions along the AuSable and Manistee River headwaters and determine the effect of future development on these freshwater resources.

— Direct Military Affairs to develop, and require all Camp Grayling units to sign and comply with, a major agreement covering training hours, noise control, environmental regulatory compliance and other issues.

— Require enhanced public notification procedures regarding scheduled training activities and their impact on civilian land use in areas controlled by Military Affairs. This will include improved signage, notification in local newspapers and other publications.

— Direct Military Affairs to defer construction of a proposed air assault strip until at least next year, pending review of possible alternative locations removed from recreational use areas.

— Direct Military Affairs to defer development of a proposed multi-purpose range complex until all environmental concerns are addressed and seek advice from the advisory council before construction begins. The complex, which will consolidate eight existing ranges into two, should be operated with the goal of reducing overall noise levels.

— Direct Military Affairs to limit dropping of 500-pound bombs by aircraft based outside of Michigan to levels proportionate to those allowed by other states hosting Michigan aircraft.

Military Affairs already announced it will restrict night firing by tank and howitzer units and cease firing on holiday weekends and the operating of trout season.

"These measures, and others to be implemented by the Department of Military Affairs, will help alleviate concerns of nearby residents and ensure continued recreational use and enjoyment of the Grayling area," the Governor said. "The Guard also will be able to continue vital training activities in and around Camp Grayling."

Military Announces Plans On 43 Recommendations

Major General Vernon J. Andrews, the Adjutant General of Michigan, has announced the second set of steps the Michigan National Guard will be taking to implement recommendations of Governor Blanchard's Camp Grayling Management Advisory Committee (CGMAC). General Andrews is the Director of the Department of Military Affairs and Commander of the Michigan Army and Air National Guard.

Committee members submitted their recommendations to the Governor in January, at which time General Andrews announced immediate implementation of most recommendations that dealt with training noise. His recent announcement detailed the Guard's plans for each of the remaining issues raised by Committee members.

"We know our implementation in January of the noise recommendations has already helped. I hope the steps we're announcing today help as much in these other areas," said General Andrews.

CGMAC Chairman, Ron Steffens, echoed the General's optimism, saying "I'm pleased that we are able to announce implementation of the recommendations of the committee members. I predict that many of the problems will have disappeared by this time next year."

Governor Blanchard formed the CGMAC last year to investigate and make recommendations that "satisfy the dual objectives of meeting national and Michigan National Guard training requirements and providing for proper resource management and enjoyment of the natural resources of the area by residents and visitors."

Committee members identified 47 issues. Attached is a listing of implementation plans for each issue.

Camp Grayling E.I.S. Hearing Set for May

A public hearing concerning a preliminary Environmental Impact Statement (E.I.S.) for Camp Grayling will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 17, at the Grayling High School.

The final E.I.S. will be used in decisions concerning Camp Grayling projects. The E.I.S. addresses any significant impact projects may have on air quality, noise, soils, vegetation, wildlife, land use, waste disposal, water, cultural resources, and socioeconomic.

The telephone book sized preliminary document was prepared by Eugene A. Hickock and Associates, a Minnesota based environmental consulting firm.

For a copy of the 26-page summary of the preliminary E.I.S., or for a list of places where the entire E.I.S. may be read, write the Dept. of Military Affairs, ATTN: E.I.S., Construction and Facilities Office, 2500 S. Washington Ave., Lansing, MI 48913-5101, or call Lt. Col. Brian Downey, 517/483-5600.

Stedman's Auto & Marine Paint Supply Opens Here

Stedman's Auto & Marine Paint Supply, Inc., of Traverse City opened a store in Grayling on Monday, April 17th.

The new business is located on M-72 West next door to Jim's Farm Market and specializes in auto and marine paints, truck accessories, and the largest selection of pinstriping in the north. Business hours are Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Their new telephone number is 348-4989.

Gerald Stedman, owner, brings to Grayling 22 years of experience in the paint supply business, nine of those years as the owner of his own businesses in both Traverse City and Cadillac. He is constantly updating his knowledge of the latest auto paints, products, and techniques by attending numerous paint schools and seminars. "Red" Weaver is the manager of the Grayling store. Weaver owned and operated an auto body shop in Grayling for many years, and brings to Stedman's expert advice on all phases of car refinishing and car reconditioning.

Stedman said that his auto and marine paint supply stores are the only automotive paint specialist in the north. They offer both wholesale prices to garages and body shops and retail prices to individuals making "across the counter" purchases.

Stedman's Auto & Marine Paint Supply, Inc. carries a full range of auto and marine paints and accessories, such as Acme Paints, a division of Sherman Williams; Dynatron Body Fillers (Bondo); Cal Stripe body pin-striping; Kenco truck accessories such as running boards, rear slider windows, and bug and stone deflectors; Norton and 3M sandpaper; and McGuire's waxes, glazes and polishes. Stedman's also carries auto replacement panels and rust repair body parts.

Services by Stedman's includes paint mixing and tinting, and through their Traverse City store, they are able to fill their own aerosol spray cans.

Future plans for Stedman's Auto & Marine Paint Supply includes at least two additional stores in the next two years.

Reader Feels G-P Expansion Will Send Dangerous Message

Crawford County is again faced with a serious dilemma, whether to allow Georgia Pacific to build their Formaldehyde Resin plant in Beaver Creek Township, or to refuse them on the grounds that it might send out a dangerous message to the industrial community at large. The message being:

"Come to Crawford County", bring your pollution, chemical waste, and heavy industry. Make any promise you will about your high Safety Standards.

Will the money generated for Crawford County be more important to us than the protection of our wilderness, and wetland areas? We have to ask, are six job openings worth the risk? With only six new jobs, we feel Georgia Pacific stands to benefit more than the residents of Crawford County.

If this Chemical plant is not a risk, why did Georgia Pacific assure everyone that they would never build a formaldehyde resin plant here back in 1985? We are not against industry moving into Crawford County, but this is a Chemical plant, and not a general manufacturing plant. With a Chemical plant, there is always a potential danger of a catastrophic accident! We must always remember Valdez, Bhopal, and the Love Canal. Are we ever going to learn from those tragic mistakes?

Beautification Will Narrow Downtown Walking Area

To the Editor:

After attending the special meeting of the city council on April 17th and hearing the discussion of the "beautification" of downtown Grayling, I have a few concerns.

If the plan proposed Monday evening becomes a reality - 6 feet of concrete sidewalk from the store fronts out and then 5 feet of brick on which there will be placed large planters, benches and street lights - it seems to me that what the planners have done is make already narrow sidewalks narrower. The clutter of planters, benches, street lights, and the addition of bumper overhangs from parked cars, will make the 5 feet of bricking unusable walking space, thereby reducing the space for pedestrians from 11 feet to 6 feet.

And if we add to the clutter the merchandise carts, baskets, hanging racks, and tables and chairs that some downtown merchants display on the sidewalks during the summer, the walker's area gets even smaller.

I do not think our town sidewalks are wide enough for this type of "beautification." I hope the planners will take another look and do some rethinking.

Regardless, our city council should be urged to adopt an ordinance prohibiting the display of merchandise on the sidewalks except on specified "sidewalk days". This alone would go a long way in "beautifying" our business district.

Potpourri ends spring break

TIME TO END our spring break with a potpourri of Florida related miscellany, culled from the public media in the Sunshine State....

ALUMNI VANITY - Willing to sport a replica of a stalwart Spartan or a ferocious Wolverine on your license plate? How about a Bulldog or a Bronco or a Chipewawa? And help the college of your choice, at the same time?

Florida has pronounced as a success the sale of vanity license plates, bearing the logos of one of nine state universities, with proceeds going to the driver's favorite university.

Each tag costs $25, plus a first-time $2 handling charge; it's in addition to the regular state registration fee of $18-36 for passenger cars.

University of Florida received $917,690 from the gimmick sale, and Florida State University received $653,586. University of North Florida at Jacksonville was at the bottom of the list of nine schools, with $16,875.

Sounds like a winner. A little fun, and a few easy bucks for education, too. Maybe Michigan should try it.

FISHING FEES - One of the most controversial bills before the 1989 Florida Legislature is a proposal to license salt water fishing.

Up to now, no license has been required to fish the Atlantic Ocean or Gulf of Mexico, off Florida shores. Sport-fishing on the open seas has been called the last un-taxed joy in Florida.

Gov. Bob Martinez proposed the saltwater fishing license at $10 a year for resident anglers and $25 a year for visitors, estimated to raise $17 million a year, earmarked for marine patrol, research, fishery development, and other related items.

As in Michigan, conservation related items are always controversial, but no-license fishing has always been one of Florida's finer attractions. Now it appears to be down the drain.

FAST LIFE - Life in the southland can be quite hectic, too.

Boca Raton attorney Alan Kauffman decided he couldn't be out of touch with his clients even during his early morning jog, so he jogs with a portable phone.

Somehow or other, I'd bet Mr. Kauffman is headed for an early ulcer...or possibly early retirement.

Permits to pick blueberries or mushrooms in the woods? A license to walk in the woods? Sound funny?

Maybe it does now but it could eventually happen.

Just this year the DNR severely restricted wood cutting on state land for individuals and the DNR starting requiring all canoes to be registered.

It isn't outrageous to believe we'll someday have to pay to pick blueberries or mushrooms on state land as the letterwriter to the Avalanche suggested last week.

Think about it. When our ancestors first moved here they didn't have to pay for a license to hunt or fish. Their canoes or boats didn't have to be registered. They didn't even need a permit to cut wood.

Perhaps we should blame the DNR for too many regulations. It's possible the DNR is stepping on "the little guy" while letting big business take too many of our resources.

But it's also possible the biggest problem isn't the DNR. They're in charge of managing our resources. The bigger problem is simply the number of people after those resources.

COMMON SENSE - Courtrooms and juries can still dish out some common sense.

Jonathon Popper, 23, was bitten by a shark wh. surfing near Miami, as many folks do, he sued, seeking $63,000, including $5,000 in medical bills, lost time at work, and nightmares. He claims the lifeguards should have warned him that sharks were in the water.

The jury said no dice. No one could have expected the attack, no one had been bitten there for 10 years, and Mr. Popper - a surfer for 10 years - should have known the risks. Besides, he was now right back in the same waters, surfing again.

Good enough.

FALSE PRETENSES - Daren Anderson of Riviera Beach had a legitimate gripe. He paid $10 for some merchandise, which he suspected was fake. So he did what most of us would do under like circumstances ... he complained to the police.

Except the merchandise was supposed to be a piece of cocaine rock.

"He was really upset," said Officer Chris Hamorix. "He said he paid $10 for it and he wanted us to do something about it."

Turns out the suspicious Anderson also was wanted on outstanding warrants for prowling; he ended up in jail.

And the suspected crack? Yep ... it was fake, all right.

You just can't trust anybody in Florida.

NUTS AND JOLTS - Some closing Nuts and Jolts from Hod Shewell (which qualify as Florida potpourri because Mr. Shewell ponders the world part-time in North Port, Fla.; he winters in Florida, and summers in Pentwater, Mich., which is the way every writer should have his/her life arranged):

- A reasonable meal is one where the other guy picks up the check.

- Take all the wooden nickels you can get; they're worth more than the real ones.

- Southern farmers don't seem to cotton to wool.

- Minor surgery is what is always performed on the other guy.

- Any guy with a fenced-in back yard, a dog, and a long winter better watch his step when he starts to tiptoe through the tulips in the spring.

Eighty years ago when there was one house at Lake Margrethe and Traverse City was a quiet town, there weren't a whole lot of DNR regulations around here. Nowadays, with the population in northern Michigan (and the world) growing, there's more pressure on resources. There is less available for everyone because there are more people after the resources.

More people means more regulations. As far-fetched as it may sound to some people now, the DNR will probably someday have regulations for the homeowner on the air you breathe, the water you drink, and even the sunshine that hits your home. (In other parts of the country there are regulations on the amount of groundwater you can use, the amount of woodsmoke or dust you put into the air, and on the size of your solar energy collector.)

Can you imagine what other regulations await us if our area draws as many people as Traverse City?

I can't. That may be the time to move to a quieter, less populated area. If there's still one left somewhere.

Notes from the Woods

By Nancy Lemmen
Avalanche Columnist

Dave and I were both at the bathroom sink getting ready for book club one recent Saturday night. We were going to discuss "Pentimento," a memoir by playwright Lillian Hellman.

Dave was dressed in navy corduroys, a blue plaid flannel shirt and an off-white fisherman's knit cardigan sweater. All he might have needed to complete the literary look would have been elbow patches on his sweater sleeves and a pipe in his mouth. (I wouldn't have minded the former, but both he and I would have balked at the latter.)

On the other hand, I was still dressed in my usual week-end attire - favorite grey sweatpants with hole in left thigh and t-shirt topped by baggy sweatpants with hole in left thigh and t-shirt topped by baggy sweatshirt. I didn't look as good as Dave did, but I felt great.

I think I'll wear what I have on to book club, I teased him. Lillian Hellman was her own woman. In her honor I'll be my own woman and wear what I want tonight. He laughed weakly. He probably thought I would do it. He knows that I can always be counted on to be the most underdressed person at any event we attend.

Poor Dave, I told him. You always dress so nicely, and you're stuck with me, who rarely dresses nice. Reminds me of that movie we just saw, "Married to the Mob." You're "Married to the Slob." He agreed.

I believe that all the best efforts in the world cannot turn a slob into a fashion plate. Once a slob, always a slob. I've been a slob since childhood. My parents bought me nice clothes when I was a kid, but I always stained, wrinkled and ripped them. I pushed up the sleeves of my sweaters and stuffed their pockets full until they lost all shape, and then I loved them most. I played in the grass and on the floor until my pants were hopelessly soiled. I broke in new wardrobe purchases by sleeping in them.

As an adult, though, I'm not a total fashion loss. My friend Kathy is impressed that my socks nearly always match my sweaters. However, another friend told me that I should consider wearing more clothing with patterns, because my single color sweaters and blouses were becoming boring. Really, how can she expect me to match if I start wearing plaids and stripes and other patterns?

When I told Dave about this column, he advised me to write about the pleasures and gratifications I get from being a slob. I thought that was a good idea, but I really couldn't think of any. Mainly, I'm just embarrassed when I'm the only woman in slacks at a dinner dance or when I wear nylons the color of my dress instead of my shoes.

It's not that I love being a slob so much. It's more that being one is beyond my control. I can't look sharp any more than Johnny Carson can look dowdy. And that's that.

Not that it doesn't hurt. I used to have this great multi-colored plaid suit. I loved it because it could be worn with any number of different turtleneck sweaters. Maybe I did wear it a while longer than it was fashionable. So big deal. Anyway, one day when Dave dropped me off for work, his parting words were to the effect that my suit really wasn't very stylish anymore.

Twelve years have passed and I still remember how yucky I felt walking up the sidewalk into the school and then having to teach in that suit all day before I could get home to take it off. I still feel unfashionable every time I wear it to work. (Just kidding. I got rid of it last year.)

Maybe I'm a slob because I like to wear clothes that I can move around in. If work or play demands that I climb on chairs or sit on the floor, I want to be ready. Three-piece suits and high heels are not designed for squatting or jumping or reaching.

Maybe it's because I hate to shop. I haven't had a decent wardrobe since my mother quit insisting that I go with her on two major shopping trips a year, one for school clothes in the fall, and another for summer clothes in the spring. Last time she took me shopping was about a decade ago. Once those clothes wore out, I just never replaced them. (Actually, I'm still wearing the corduroy pants with the worn spots, but I'm going to dump them next season.)

My major winter jacket this year was a navy hand-me-down from Dave. My favorite jacket this spring is a baggy khaki hand-me-down from a writer friend. It makes me feel comfortable and cool to wear it.

Even my sweat pants need replacing before they become indecent. I went to buy some new ones at R & H Sports the other day, but I couldn't remember my size and I didn't feel like trying any on, so I told them I'd come back.

But when I got home, I put on my old R & H sweats and realized that there are at least two more washings (ie, weeks of wear) left on my old ones. So I'll wear them until they hit the crisis stage. Then I'll hurry down to the store and make my big fashion decision - grey or navy. At least I won't have to pick out matching accessories. That would be too much.

Marilyn Longworth Honored For Community Service

The Hernando-Pasco Hospice of Florida raised $8,000 on April 10th when a "Celebration of Love" took place honoring Marilyn Grandy Longworth for her outstanding service to her community and the quality of life for the people at Pasco and Hernando County.

Susan McCurdy and Ruth Steffe of Grayling joined the 150 community leaders and friends who dined at the Seaport Inn in Port Richey, Florida. Many accolades were paid to Marilyn and among those making statements were Congressman Michael Bilirakis, 9th District, Florida. "It is always an honor to salute excellence and I am proud to be able to include my tribute to a woman who has not only been a good friend to many in the community, but is also a true representative of what has made America strong, its volunteers. Seeing needs in the community, Marilyn has been willing to step forward to bridge the gaps between what is needed and what is being provided. I and all who know you are proud of your contributions, Marilyn. As you pursue your level of excellence, you raise the standards for all."

V.F.W. Post Working To Own New Building

In 1946 the V.F.W. Post #6579 met at the hotel. It was called the Chief Shoppenagon Post, but in time it disbanded. In May of 1966 a new post was formed. It was organized by William Higby, and had twenty nine members. The charter was received on May 25, 1966 for the Crawford County Post #3736. Department Commander Clarence Schumacher came to institute the new officers. The meetings were held in the old St. Mary's church building on Lake St., in the basement of the hotel, the Moose Lodge and in some of the members' homes. Some social meetings were held to include the wives.

In November of 1978 Clyde and Mary Gretchen Borchers donated a new building on Mikado St. in Grayling, Michigan to the V.F.W. Post in memory of their son Carl W. Borchers who was killed in the line of duty while serving in Vietnam. He was a member of the Air Force and flew low level planes for support of the ground crews. There were only twelve planes of this type made, the last plane was destroyed on Carl's last flight. Carl was awarded the Air Medal for meritorious Achievement, Distinguished Flying Cross and several other medals. His pictures and medals were donated to Post #3736 by his cousins John and Barbara Sojka of Grayling.

In presentation of the building by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Borchers the Post changed their name to the Carl W. Borchers Post #3736. The post lost the building due to financial problems and are now meeting at the Chaparral Ranch in Grayling, Michigan where Carl's pictures and awards are displayed with the Post and Auxiliary flags. The post now has 44 members and the Auxiliary has 28, the meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at 7 p.m.

The Post and Auxiliary are working toward a new Post Home for the future. The new officers for 1989 are: Commander Donald Cragg, Sr. Vice Harland Leppert, Jr. Vice Joseph Pencak, Q.M. Yette Szkotnicki, Advocate Wm. Johns, Chaplin James Carmean, Sugeon Larry Sells, 1st yr. Trustee Wm. Beck, 2nd yr. Trustee Harold Sneed, 3rd yr. Trustee Harold Hatfield, Adj. Alfred Armstrong, Service Officer Ernest Hale, and Americanism Chr. Ernest Hale.

Officers for the Auxiliary are President Lou Ann Crosby, 1st Vice Joyce Cousins, Jr. Vice Gladys Reed, Treasurer Alice Cragg, Chaplin Lillian King, Conductress Shirley Pencak, Guard Juanita Beck, Trustees Jeanne Pearce, Shirley Privaloff, and Betty Leppert. Martha MacDonald was appointed secretary. (All dates in this report are approximate.)

Bits of Talk

Fred and Jean Arwood, Ray and Treva McClanahan, and Dick and Pat Jackman have all returned from the winter months spent in Punta Gorda, Florida. They spent a lot of time golfing together there.

Jim and Marie Wiltse have returned home last week. They spent the winter months in Mission, Texas.

Judy and Terry Dickinson were at Purdue University in Indiana recently where they went to finalize plans for the woodcut murals that he has been hired to do for the Dept. of Forestry at Purdue.

Mrs. Josephine Owen's family have been saddened by the death of her daughter, Emma Jean Mattison, on March 20, 1989, in an automobile accident in Arizona. Jean is survived by her husband, Dr. Jack Mattison, and four daughters and one son, Joanne, Judy, Jeanne, Jane and John. Memorial services were March 28. Anyone wishing to write to Jo Owen, a former Grayling teacher, her address is: 1131 Logan, Freeport, Illinois, 61032.

Jim and Pat Dye of Saginaw spent week-end before last at their home on the AuSable. Jim, as a past governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis, was the guest speaker at the Grayling Kiwanis Club on Monday, April 17. He spoke on the goals and work of Kiwanis.

David Nielson of Gaylord was given a surprise 40th birthday luncheon by his wife, Heather, at his office building in Gaylord on Saturday, April 15.

GHS To Host 26 Bands for State Festival

By Nancy Lemmon

Sax Players

Grayling High School will join 16 other Michigan high schools in hosting a 1989 Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association (MSBOA) State Band and Orchestra Festival on April 28 and 29.

According to Dennis Ormsbee, GHS band director, 51 bands requested to perform in Grayling, 26 of which will have their requests honored. Some of the bands will come to Grayling, spend the night, eat out, and make festival weekend their annual band trip, added his wife Brenda.

The state festival runs from 5:00 to 8:20 p.m. on Friday, April 28, and from 8:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. on Saturday, April 29. The GHS band will perform at approximately 5:50 p.m. on Friday.

Panels of four experts judge each band or orchestra on performance ability and sight reading. Groups are required to perform three concert numbers and two sight reading pieces.

Grayling has chosen to play "Silvercrest," a march by James Swearingen; "Fall River Overture" by Robert Sheldon; and "Dreams and Fancies," the state-required piece by Timothy Broege, a young Michigan composer.

To qualify for state level competition, bands and orchestras must have earned first division ratings at the MSBOA's District Festivals in February.

GHS qualified with straight I ratings from the panel of four judges at their district festival in Traverse City.

Performances, which are free and open to the public, will be held in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium at Grayling High School. Sight reading takes place in the Band Room, and groups warm up in the library. Grayling Band Boosters will operate a concession stand on the mezzanine of the gymnasium.

TOP SCORES — The GHS band earned all I's to advance to the state festival.

SOLO AND ENSEMBLE — These 5 musicians from the GHS band also went to the State Solo and Ensemble Festival this year. (L-R) Chad Ormsbee, tuba solo, Jason Steiger, drum duet, Dana Mirate, drum solo, Shane Lovely, drum duet, and Jordan Stancil, piano solo.

Young Viking Squad Can't Hold Leads

A young Grayling team led Sault Ste. Marie in both games of a doubleheader here Saturday, April 22, but mistakes caught up with the Vikings.

In the first game, Joel Mack was hit by a pitch to open the game.

He scored after a Chris Skidmore single and wild pitch. His run gave the Vikings the lead until the fourth when the Soo scored once. In the 5th inning the Soo scored 7 unearned runs. John Jurkovich had Grayling's only other hit in the first game.

The Vikings again led 5-4 after four innings in the second game. Unearned runs in the 5th inning for the Soo proved to be the difference in the game. Skidmore, Brian Palmer, Max Prosser, and Ty Stallard each had two hits. Jim Abney and Tim Hickey had one hit each.

On April 18, Kalkaska outlived Grayling and won a doubleheader 9-0 and 12-3. In the first game Palmer had Grayling's only hit. In the 2nd game, Abney had 2 hits, Palmer 1, Prosser 1, and Stallard 1.

Varsity coach Fred Wolcott said the young team will keep improving and surprise some people by the end of the year.

Grayling was scheduled to play at Vanderbilt, 4 p.m. Monday, April 24, at Gaylord 4 p.m. Thursday, April 27, and at Roscommon 4 p.m. Monday, May 1.

J.V.'s Open With 4 Straight Wins

The Grayling J.V. baseball team used home runs and heavy hitting to open the season with two doubleheader sweeps. They beat Houghton Lake 16-4 and 8-1 and beat Kalkaska 7-4 and 6-5.

Mark Brannan led the hitting against

Houghton Lake with 4 hits including a grand slam and a 3-run homer. Matt Branch, Scott Cinciala, and Mike McMillan each had 2 hits. Tim Hough, Dave Teddy, Aaron Raymond, Tom Cox, and Matt Holteamp each had one hit.

Dave Teddy and Tom Cox were the winning pitchers.

Against Kalkaska, Scott Nicholas, Bob Harris, Joey LaForest, Scott Cinciala, Mark Brannan, and Eric Bonamie each had 2 hits. Tim Hough and Dave Teddy each had one.

Harris and Cinciala were the winning pitchers.

On April 19, the J.V. dropped a doubleheader to Cadillac 11-

10 and 15-12.

Mick McKinney and Scott Cinciala led the team with 4 hits each and one home run each. Scott Nicholas and Bob Harris had 3 hits each. Mark Brannan had 2 hits and a home run.

The J.V. team plays Gaylord here Thursday, April 27.

Par for the Course

The Opening Happy Hour at the Grayling Country Club on Saturday afternoon, April 22, 1989, was another huge success with the members and guests enjoying catching up on the winter's activities and sojourns. Everyone is ready for the golf season with the men's leagues starting this week and the women's organization meeting taking place.

Mike Hoffman and his staff at the club had an attractive table of hors d'oeuvres ready for the group. Fred and Jean Arwood served as host and hostess, aiding Mike and his staff.

Drawings were won by Bruce Smith, Jean Arwood, and Herb Olson.

Any men interested in joining the leagues should contact Irv McIsaac immediately. Women interested in joining Wednesday morning league should contact Marilyn Fick immediately. Any new club members are very welcome to join.

The ladies Monday night golf league will have an organizational meeting on May 8 at 7 p.m. at the Country Club.

TU Schedules Annual Banquet

The George Mason Chapter of Trout Unlimited will hold their Annual Conservation Banquet, Auction and Raffle on Saturday, May 6th at the Holiday Inn of Grayling from 6 until 10 p.m. The proceeds from the auction and raffle will be used to help conserve and preserve cold water streams. Tickets are $15 per person and may be purchased by calling 517/348-7191.

SPORTS FANS!

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You By Mike Fortino Sales Representative

Here's a surprising fact... Although the New York Mets have had many famous players in their history, including Darryl Strawberry, Keith Hernandez, Gary Carter, Tom Seaver and Dwight Gooden, NO player on the Mets has EVER won the Most Valuable Player award in the National League in any year... That's hard to believe, but true.

Here's a sports quiz for you... In which sports are the following lengths? (A) from 3 to 4 miles... (B) 76 feet... (C) 9 feet... (D) 62 feet, 10 1/8 inches... The answers... (A) golf... (B) tennis... (C) table tennis... (D) bowling.

The person who holds the official record for making the most holes-in-one in golf history is NOT any big-name professional player, but an amateur, Norman Manley of Long Beach, Calif. Manley made the amazing total of 59 verified holes-in-one on regulation courses between 1963 and 1988.

I bet you didn't know... that you can buy almost any new Chrysler, Plymouth or Dodge car or truck and get 0% interest for a full 2 years, or get rebates as high as $2000! There has never been a time like this to buy! He who hesitates is lost!

Military Announces Plans

accomplishing its three chartered purposes:

1. Monitor and assist, as appropriate, in implementation of the recommendations.

2. Provide a Communications link between the Department of Military Affairs and the Camp Grayling Community.

3. Provide a direct Communications link with the Governor's office regarding issues relating to implementation of recommendations, compliance, community relations, and resources required by DMA to accomplish these things.

The new Council, to be appointed by the Governor, will serve for two years.

Additionally, Camp Grayling will create a permanent "Camp Grayling Community Council", consisting of representatives from over 60 Crawford, Kalkaska, and Otsego County governmental, community, and recreational groups. This Council will be patterned after the successful Base Council operating for many years at Selfridge Air National Base near Mt. Clemens.

1. B. Full-time Complaint Staff

To achieve a long-term solution of this issue, DMA has requested to hire two "civilian response coordinators."

1. C. Duties of Complaint Staff

If resourced, both "civilian response coordinators" would be state civil service employees working for DMA and charged with assisting the Camp Grayling Commander in his efforts at "minimizing potential conflicts and resolving community concerns". Their specific duties would include operating an improved telephone complaint system for the Camp and serving as a liaison between the new Governor's Committee and the Camp Grayling Commander.

2. Public Notice of Training Activities

Regulations require certain areas of Camp Grayling be closed when used for training or range firing. The current practice of weekly newspaper ads works best with local, full-time residents, but not as well with tourists and weekend residents. DMA will work with the appropriate state agencies to identify the additional resources that will be necessary for it to improve newspaper notices and to augment them with radio announcements.

3. Training Area Maps and Notification

DMA will work with the appropriate state agencies to identify the additional resources that will be necessary for it to prepare a map of Camp Grayling for public distribution showing training areas and restrictions.

4. Road Plan

Camp Grayling is traversed by county roads, military roads, and military roads that are being used as county roads. DMA will work with appropriate state, county, and local officials to clarify this situation and to develop a master traffic plan that coordinates Camp Grayling's traffic control plan with county plans and minimizes the impact of military traffic on the community.

5. Long-term Land Transfers

DMA will work with the new Camp Grayling Advisory Council and DNR to inform and get public comment on any proposed long-term (over 30 days) transfer of state land to Camp Grayling.

6. Annual Review of Lease Requirements

For the past few years, DMA has been meeting with DNR twice a year to review land lease issues. We will continue to comply with our leases, participate in such reviews, and to work with DNR to resolve any issues.

7. Major Training Agreement

A new Training Regulation for the Camp will cover conditions of use provisions, training hours, noise control, actions and limitations required by environmental regulations, and enforcement measures connected with violations of Camp Regulations. Additional portions of the new Regulation will be implemented this training year, with publication of the new Regulation and its full implementation scheduled for next summer.

8. A. Improved Law Enforcement

Given Camp Grayling's size, additional law enforcement personnel are desirable and will be actively sought. We also support the goal of improving enforcement of local, state, federal and military laws and regulations on troops, both on and off post, and on civilians while in the resorting of such personnel and the legal ramifications of these enforcement personnel having to work in so many jurisdictions (city, county, state, federal, and military). The army is presently detaching 32 M.P. units from the force structure. Michigan will lose one of its M.P. units in 1991. This will make the creation of a full-time unit for Camp Grayling unlikely. DMA will explore other options to accomplish this goal but, because of the number of jurisdictions involved DMA does not anticipate having all the required coordination completed and results announced until July, 1990.

8. B. Law Enforcement Authority of Camp Grayling

DMA will incorporate in the "Major Training Agreement", provisions specifying the enforcement authorities of Camp Grayling over all units using the Camp.

9. Use of Military Vehicles

DMA will review existing rules and associated sanctions concerning use and misuse of military vehicles and, where needed, will strengthen them. Following this review the definitive rules will be publicized.

10. Trespassing

The CGMAC found "The trespass problem is two-sided with the military also having complaints: civilians driving all-terrain vehicles through the middle of training formations, cutting down fences to gain access to dangerous dud-laden impact areas, and the annual destruction of thousands of dollars worth of signage, fences and training structures during hunting season. Much of this (trespassing) problem is a result of Camp Grayling's unique status as a military training facility without a perimeter fence. While this is a commendable way to increase recreational use of the land, it makes it difficult for both military and civilians alike to always avoid committing trespass against each other. In all cases reported to the Committee, when military trespass resulted in damage to civilian property and claims were filed, the military paid for repairs. However, civilians were not always satisfied with the reporting procedures, time involved in settling claims, and quality of repairs". DMA will review existing rules and enforcement procedures regarding military and civilian trespass and, where needed, will strengthen them. Following this review the definitive rules, associated sanctions, and reporting and claim procedures will be publicized.

11. Increased Signage

DMA will work with the appropriate state agencies to identify the additional resources that will be necessary for it to place additional signs around Camp Grayling, particularly along public roads and at intersections where roads enter Camp Grayling.

12. A. Public Information Program

DMA will work with the appropriate state agencies to identify the additional resources that will be necessary for it to hire two "Community Response Coordinators" for Camp Grayling (see Issues 1.B and 1.C.)

12. B. Assistance of Congressional Delegation

DMA will continue to keep the Michigan Congressional Delegation informed of both the problems and progress being made on these items so these elected officials might use their elected offices to assist Camp Grayling and its community.

13. Reporting Procedures

DMA will improve its complaint response system at Camp Grayling. Steps will include establishing a dedicated reporting "hotline" to be used exclusively for citizen complaints and improved documentation of complaints. Documentation will include date and time of complaint; name, address and phone number of complainant; detailed information regarding the complaint; action taken to resolve complaint, including date, time, and staff assigned; and response to complaint, including date and complainant's evaluation of resolution. This "hotline" and complaint system will, funding permitting, be operated by the two new Camp Grayling "Community Response Coordinators."

14. ICUZ

In 1987 Camp Grayling began an "Installation Compatible Use Zone", or ICUZ, Program. This is a federal program being implemented at military facilities, nationwide, and uses federal noise standards to limit noise production at existing facilities, to set scientific standards by which future projects can be judged, and to establish guidelines for communities to use in evaluating zoning requests to build residences near existing noise producing facilities. DMA has accelerated the testing phase and will take additional steps to fully implement this program as quickly as possible.

15. ICUZ Zone III Contours

The ICUZ program establishes three types of noise "zones" and sets guidelines for keeping the most bothersome, Zone III, from affecting residential areas. Computer modeling and actual on-location testing shows Camp Grayling has only one Zone III area that leaves the Camp's boundaries. This is the Guthrie Lakes area which was only recently built adjacent to the artillery impact area and air-to-ground range. All property descriptions included notice and warning of this fact. DMA has requested additional noise measurements in the Guthrie Lakes area to help us determine what actions we can take to help alleviate this problem further, with a goal of bringing this Zone III contour within Camp Grayling's boundary. DMA will also conduct periodic noise assessments, as is required under the ICUZ program.

16. Environmental Impact Statement (EIS)

In accordance with all provisions of the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), civilian environmental consultants were hired to do an EIS on DMA plans for improving facilities at Camp Grayling. This EIS is a federal document, this timetable of which is not under the control of DMA. Once the draft EIS is published in the Federal Register it will be released for public comment. As required under NEPA, no final decision on projects or construction will begin until the document has received public review and the public concerns are addressed.

17. MPRC Concerns

DMA will implement the recommendation to keep the MPRC in compliance with the requirements of federal and state laws. Specifically, DMA will not begin construction on the Multi-Purpose Range Complex until all statutory requirements (including public review and comment) of the National Environmental Policy Act have been completed and complied with. Additionally, DMA will seek the advice of the new Camp Grayling Advisory Council before beginning construction.

18. MPRC Location

Camp Grayling currently has eight main gun tank ranges on which tanks have been firing since World War II. DMA proposes to replace the current mechanical targets with electronically scored, mobile targets that permit far more realistic and cost-effective training. The installation of these new targets gives Camp Grayling the opportunity to shut down six of the eight tank main gun ranges and move the other two farther away from the AuSable River. These two ranges, once relocated would be known as the Multi-Purpose Range Complex or MPRC. DMA has already begun implementation of the recommendation to investigate the feasibility of employing sound reduction techniques, such as the berms detailed in the CGMAC report. The committee's information on this berming concept has already been sent to the Army's environmental engineering branch, and DMA is awaiting a cost/benefit analysis. We also have sent an officer to a training conference on laser simulators to determine how quickly the MPRC might be fitted with a laser scoring system that would significantly reduce the amount of tank ammunition fired and, therefore, noise generated. This is part of our goal of operating the MPRC in a manner that reduces the overall noise generated by the range.

19. Air Assault Strip

If deterrence fails and the U.S. is attacked, many units of the Michigan National Guard would pack their equipment for airlift, be flown into combat areas in C-130 cargo aircraft set down at hastily prepared dirt runways near the front lines, and leave the aircraft into combat formations. While many units have trained overseas, none of our units have had any training in this deployment activity. We propose to build a dirt runway at Camp Grayling to allow this training using C-130 aircraft (the smallest troop transport in the air force). We have conducted on-location noise tests and have determined these activities will not produce unacceptable noise levels. However, DMA will delay construction of the strip until at least next year, pending review of possible alternative locations. Construction will not begin until all statutory requirements (including public review and comment) of the National Environmental Policy Act have been complied with.

20. Use of Air Assault Strip

DMA will implement the recommendation to limit the use of the Air Assault Strip to activities that are directly connected to the transport of troops and equipment; specifically take-offs and landings required to pick-up or drop-off troops and/or their equipment and the practice take-offs and landing necessary to familiarize the crews with the strip and to maintain crew proficiency in these types of insertions and extractions.

21. Range Modifications

DMA will conduct a study to explore the feasibility and possible options of relocating air-to-ground range activities and reconfiguring the artillery range. The completion date for the air-to-ground range study cannot be determined until after the completion of the Air Force's range study, currently underway. The artillery study is already scheduled, as part of ICUZ implementation (see Issues #14 and #15). Since the testing portion of this study is being done by another federal agency, we cannot guarantee completion dates. We predict we should have their analyzed data sometime during 1990. Relocation options for the tank range were completed as part of the Camp Grayling Environmental Impact Statement, scheduled for public release this week.

22. Daily Air-To-Ground Range Use Restrictions

On January 27, 1989 (the day the CGMAC Recommendations were submitted to the Governor and released to the public) General Andrews ordered the Michigan Air National Guard to restrict use of the Camp Grayling Air-to-Ground Range to between sunrise and three hours after sunset."

23. Holiday Air-To-Ground Range Use Restrictions

On January 27, 1989 General Andrews ordered the Michigan Air National Guard to cease use of the Camp Grayling Air-to-Ground Range on the officially designated holiday weekends of Memorial Day, Fourth of July, and Labor Day at 4:00 p.m. on Friday and not to resume use again until sunrise Tuesday. On the opening weekend of the trout fishing season use will cease three hours after sunset and not resume until sunrise Monday.

24. Live 500 Pound Bombs

Over 90% of the bombs dropped on Camp Grayling's air-to-ground range are inert (do not explode on impact). Air Force regulations require pilots to drop a small number of live bombs annually. General Andrews has ordered the Michigan Air National Guard to restrict the use of live 500 pound bombs to the Michigan Air National Guard and allow their use only to other states as proportionate to reciprocal training activities.

25. Air-To-Ground Range Control

DMA has instructed Camp Grayling to meet quarterly with Phelps Collins Air National Guard Base, which mans and schedules the air-to-ground range. They will assess and explore ways to improve pilot compliance with the FAA "Notice to Airmen" (NOTAMS) which establish conditions of use provisions and Camp Grayling's control over the air-to-ground range.

26. Minimum Altitudes for Flight Corridors

DMA will implement the recommendations to leave minimum altitudes where they are and increase enforcement efforts. Military helicopters flying outside Camp Grayling or designated training areas must fly above 500 feet (which is 450 feet higher than the minimum set for civilian helicopters flying over the same area). Airspace over Camp Grayling and the few low altitude corridors in the state are the only places in Michigan that pilots can practice the low altitude flight skills they must keep sharp if they are to survive in combat. Minimum altitudes will not be raised in these training areas since, to do so, would make it impossible to provide this required training. DMA anticipates other steps announced today (helicopter buzz numbers and the improved complaint response system) will help address this issue by enabling Camp Grayling to better identify and correct a pilot who might fail to comply with existing flight minimums.

27. Additional Access Corridors into the Air-To-Ground Range

DMA will work with the FAA to establish additional corridors into the air-to-ground range so as to permit a rotation of areas overflown.

28. Radar Monitoring of Jet Aircraft

After discussing this issue with the CGMAC Chairman, it was agreed that such a system, using current technology would be prohibitively expensive. DMA will continue to monitor developments in this technology and, when significant improvements or cost reductions occur, re-analyze feasibility.

New hearing aid automatically reduces background noise.

Chicago, IL — Here's a free line for those who have trouble hearing and understanding words in noisy places like crowded restaurants or parties. Beltone is offering a brochure containing important information about the new Beltone Focus/ANF hearing aid featuring Beltone's exclusive Automatic Noise Filter system free to anyone requesting it.

Beltone's ANF system automatically reduces background noise so you can better understand conversation in noisy situations. Just imagine what it would be like to be able to join in and enjoy conversations, movies, even TV!

Beltone's Focus/ANF brochure is free, so write for yours today! Again there is no cost and certainly no obligation. Although a hearing aid may not help everyone, more and more people with hearing losses are being helped. For your free brochure, send your name, address, and phone number to, or call:

43 Recommendations

29. Helicopter Buzz Numbers

DMA will require all military helicopters (Michigan's and other states) operating out of Camp Grayling to have an identification number on their undersides.

30. Conversion of 8" Artillery Howitzer Battalion

DMA has already communicated to the Pentagon and Michigan's Congressional Delegation its desire to convert its 8" howitzer Battalion, Detroit) to the 155mm howitzer or some other less noisy fire support weapon system. Plans for weapons conversions are made many years in advance and the success of requested changes are difficult to predict. DMA will continue to actively pursue a conversion, but until such conversion occurs, must continue to fire its 8" howitzers at Camp Grayling. DMA will implement the recommendation to pursue conversion but to allow continued firing in the meantime. DMA believes the 75% reduction in night firing time for 8" howitzers will, in itself, go a long way towards resolving this issue.

31. Zone III Contours

(For an explanation of ICUZ and ZONE III contours, see Issues #14 and #15). DMA has already submitted the buffer zone system detailed in the CGMAC Report to the Army's environmental engineering branch, and is awaiting its cost/benefit analysis or alternatives.

32. Daily Artillery and Tank Range Use Restrictions

On January 27, 1989 General Andrews ordered Camp Grayling to restrict use of the Camp Grayling Artillery and main gun Tank ranges to between sunrise and three hours after sunset. The types of weapons restricted went beyond those specified by committee members. (For a list of specific weapon systems covered see Issue #33). The requirement that a tank unit fire half of its qualifying main gun rounds at night is an active army requirement and cannot be changed. We will attempt to do the required night firing in the 1 1/2 hours of night in which may now fire. Since this is a reduction of 75% in available night firing time, we anticipate, on occasion, exceeding these times. Committee members recommended permitting the Camp Commander to authorize such exceptions when justified and in the absence of alternatives.

Camp Grayling will notify the public of such exceptions, in advance.

33. Holiday Use of the Artillery and Tank Ranges

On January 27, 1989 (the day the CGMAC Recommendations were submitted to the Governor and released to the public) the DMA ordered Camp Grayling to cease firing artillery and tank main guns on the officially designated holiday weekends of Memorial Day, Fourth of July, and Labor Day at 4:00 p.m. on Friday and not to resume use again until sunrise Tuesday. On the opening weekend of trout fishing season, artillery and tank main gun firing will cease three hours after sunset on Friday and not resume until sunrise Monday. Specifically, the restrictions apply to artillery (8", 105mm, and 155mm howitzers), and tank main gun. Camp Grayling has gone beyond the CGMAC recommendation by also including in the restrictions 90mm recoilless rifles, helicopter mounted 40mm cannons and missiles, 107mm mortar explosive rounds (but not 107mm mortar illumination rounds or any type of 60mm or 81mm mortar rounds), TOW and DRAGON anti-tank systems, and heavy engineer demolitions or E.O.D. team ordnance disposal detonations. These additional weapon systems were included in the restrictions because of the amount of noise they create and in an effort to address both the spirit as well as the letter of the issue. Unit training and the firing of the remaining smaller weapon systems (rifles, pistols, machine guns, etc.) are not covered under this restriction.

34. Artillery Range Alternatives

The study of the artillery range is ongoing as part of the ICUZ (see issue #14 and #15) program. Additional testing is scheduled for the summer of 1989. Since this is being performed by another federal agency, we cannot guarantee its completion date or how long it will take them to analyze the data. DMA believes it can complete its analysis of range firing/impact point alternatives and report the results sometime during 1990.

35. Buy-Out of Private Property Within Camp Grayling

Another area in which Camp Grayling is unique among military training facilities is in the existence of parcels of privately owned property within the Camp's boundaries (none of this property is in the range area or any other portion of Camp that might be considered unsafe). For some years, Camp Grayling has had a policy of attempting to purchase these parcels when they come up on the open market. Property has not been condemned, nor do we intend to start such action. We estimate it will cost just under $2 million to purchase all the remaining property at market prices. DMA will work with the appropriate state agencies to identify the additional resources that will be necessary for it to attempt to acquire this property over the next few years. Without this additional resourcing no purchases can be made, thereby increasing the probability of occasional trespass and its associated complaints.

36. Review of Lease Requirements

As with issue #6, DMA has been meeting with DNR twice a year to review land lease issues. We will continue to comply with our leases and to work with DNR to resolve any issues.

37. Environmental Management Plan

In 1985, civilian environmental consultants were hired to prepare a 400 page Environmental Management Analysis and Plan for Camp Grayling. DMA will work with DNR to update this document and improve on it, as needed.

38. Land West of the Manistee

In 1984 DMA leased land in Kalkaska County from DNR. The two Departments agreed on 17 conditions of use and meet every six months to assess compliance and address concerns. DMA will implement the recommendation which calls for continued observance of the conditions of the lease, the practice of holding DNR/DMA assessment meetings.

39. Fugitive Dust

Camp Grayling has a fugitive dust control plan, which will be updated and improved on when we meet with the State and County Road Commissions concerning issue #4.

40. Soil Erosion

The CGMAC concluded that "...it appears that, at this time, the majority of the Camp has minimal soil erosion problems..." (page 44). To improve on this condition further, and to allow for rest and regeneration of topographical areas, DMA will be requesting additional federal funding for erosion control and re-seeding projects.

41. Ordnance and Litter Clean-Up

Last year Camp Grayling required units to conduct an ordnance (flares, simulators, etc.) and litter sweep of their training areas at the conclusion of their training periods. This requirement will be incorporated into the MTA. DMA has gone beyond the CGMAC recommendation by also conducting an end-of-the-training-year sweep of the training areas. DMA will continue these programs, seek to find ways to improve them and, hopefully, eventually make them unnecessary.

42. Environmental Analysis of AuSable/Manistee River Basin

DMA supports the idea of a AuSable/Manistee River

management plan. In the past few years, DMA has spent over $500,000 studying the environmental effects of military activities at Camp Grayling. All of these studies were made available to the CGMAC. The CGMAC concluded that "the Camp is currently in compliance with all regulatory standards" (page 40). While military training, like all human activity, has some effect on the environment, none were found that could be fairly described as "damage". We paid particular attention to whether or not Camp Grayling was harming the ground-water, surface water, AuSable or Manistee Rivers, fish, wildlife, trout, or insect ecology on which they feed. DMA will continue to conduct its own studies and will make them available to DNR and also will work jointly with DNR to study and protect the AuSable and Manistee watersheds.

43. Buffer Zones and Water Activities

Military units do not train on either the AuSable or Manistee Rivers or on any other stream at Camp Grayling. However, at the request of DNR and local governments, we have done numerous bridge building and environmental improvement projects on these rivers. Since the National Guard has portable bridging units, it does train on designated lakes with the permission of the DNR. The National Guard also has water purification units that produce the drinking water consumed by soldiers when they are "in the field" at Camp Grayling. These units get their un-purified water from wells, or in some cases, streams and lakes which requires them to set up near the body of water. Camp Grayling created buffer zones for vehicles around lakes and streams prior to their establishment under, and in excess of the requirements of, the Natural Rivers Act. All activities within these buffer zones either comply with the provisions of the act or are approved by DNR. DMA will implement the recommendation to continue governing activities around water by existing law and the DNR permit system.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

The next four to six weeks are the most critical time of the year for wildfires in this part of the state. May is the month when local, state and federal agencies battle forest fires which often threaten human lives and property. Although controlled burning is a valuable tool in forest and wildlife management, uncontrolled wildfires can decimate wildlife habitat.

In 1988, the Department of Natural Resources alone responded to over 1,000 fires which burned in excess of 8,000 acres. Two of the worst occurred in Ogemaw County within a couple of weeks of each other.

By far, the majority of wildfires are caused by human negligence, with improper debris burning as the major cause. Burn barrels, grass and leaf piles and brush piles are just a few examples of types of fires which often escape. Proper precautions would prevent almost all of these types of problems.

Anyone responsible for the escape of a fire faces criminal penalties. In addition, the cost of suppressing the fire may also be assessed. But these are minor considerations if someone's home or life is destroyed.

NOTE: The 1989 Off Road Vehicle registration expires on Sunday, April 30. Renew your ORV registration at the Secretary of State office near you.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

Even a brief look around the park makes it obvious there have been many changes made by man and nature alike.

The Pines have been threatened at least twice by fire and it is wise that someone (perhaps Otto Mahncke) had the forethought to build a fire break around them, for during September of 1929 forest fire threatened to destroy what the axe had not. A 300 man crew stopped a fire only three-fourths of a mile to the north of the present stand. In August of 1964, as near as can be recalled, a crown fire threatened from the northeast. On that occasion one man was injured and a tractor plow unit lost before the fire was finally brought under control. According to Leonard Jensen, park manager from 1944 to 1970, there were other fires but thankfully they were suppressed before a great deal of damage was done. For example a fire was started in the edge of the Virgin

Pines during the Memorial Day weekend in 1968; but it snowed hard enough to assist the park crew with suppression.

Not all threats came from fire. On November 11, 1941 hurricane force winds took a heavy toll of the Tall Timber. Nearly half of the original 86 acres were blown down. In retrospect it is believed the full force of the wind was able to destroy the pines because of the avenue through the stand made by M-93.

Strolling Around Town

By Fay Bovee

Strolling has been mostly to the downtown area for errands and to "snooervise" the street activities. From all appearances good progress is being made, with the new curb being poured in front of the Grayling Bank on Thursday and it looks like the curb on the other side of the street should be done by Friday. Half of the street in the main block of Michigan was torn up also, new sewers are going in holes in various places throughout the three blocks, lots of dust due to the dryness and very few cars even parked on the side streets. It continues to amaze me that people will go to city malls and park blocks away (the only spot they can find) but in a small town they find it necessary to park directly in front of the store where they want to shop. If they can't, they don't stop!

With the sunny weather, people have been out raking lawns and cleaning up in general — keep it up, it looks good!

The most noticeable activity several blocks from us is the remodeling of the former Hannah Langenberg home on Elm Street. With new gray siding and new windows, it's taken on a totally different appearance.

Verse or Worse

By Joseph D. Murphy

The Old Sailor

The old sailor stood on the rocky shore
Gazing out on the sea he'd sail no more
He thought of old friends in watery graves
Resting now beneath the pounding waves.
He had sailed the seas for many years
Knew well their storms with all their fears
He'd been in shipwrecks a time or two
Knew well the fear when the strong winds blew
But one shipwreck still brought a smile
For he'd found haven on a south sea isle
The natives had found his white skin odd
Thought he must be some kind of God
They gave him the best of everything
Treated him like a feudal king
He had made a small boat and sailed away
He often wondered now why he didn't stay
The dusky maidens of that far off isle
In memory today brought a happy smile
He'd known heaven on earth in that far off land
Why he had sailed away he couldn't understand
The restless sea sang its siren song
He had to go its pull was too strong
The old sailor bid the sea goodbye with a wave of his hand
Walked away on legs never meant for land.

Poet's Corner

Dinosaurs

Where Can they be?

Dinosaurs, Dinosaurs,
Where could they be?
Then I look out into the sea
And then I see a dinosaur looking at me.

Dad, Dad!
Come look and see
This big dinosaur that is looking at me.

Son, Son,
You expect me to believe?
Those dinosaurs are extinct
Now you let me be.

So I guess I'll go out in the sea
And swim with that dinosaur
My dad can't see.

Recipes

By Phyllis Brummer

On a recent trip to Cedar to buy Cherry Pecan Sausage which was invented by Ray Pleva, I had the opportunity to chat with Mr. Pleva. He is interested in promoting Michigan dried red tart cherries and it is possible they will be more widely distributed in our area before long. When they are available, there are lots of good recipes to pass along to you. Mr. Pleva's daughter was Cherry Festival Queen in 1988.

It's more time again and for you lucky hunters, here are some suggestions for their use.

Morel Mornay

1 lb. morels
1 can crabmeat (6½-7½ oz.)
2 tsp. lemon juice
2 tsp. butter
3 tsp. flour
1½ c. shredded processed cheese
2 tsp. sherry

Split morels and arrange in an 8-inch baking pan, hollow side up. Cover with crabmeat and sprinkle with lemon juice. Melt butter, blend in flour, then add milk. Cook and stir until thick. Stir in ½ c. cheese and the sherry. Pour over crabmeat and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake at 350° for 20 minutes, or until hot. Serve over rice or on toast.

Morel-Stuffed Chicken Breast

¼ lb. plus 4 tbsp. butter
¼ lb. morels, finely chopped
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
1½ c. fresh bread crumbs
¼ tsp. nutmeg
4 chicken breasts, skinned, boned and halved
1 c. heavy cream

Melt ¼ lb. butter, add morels, salt, and pepper and cook, stirring often, until morels absorb most of the butter. Remove from heat and add ¼ c. bread crumbs and the nutmeg. Divide between the 8 breast halves. Fold the chicken over, enclosing the stuffing and place seam side down in a baking dish. Melt the remaining butter and brush over chicken. Sprinkle with remaining bread crumbs and bake at 350° for 30 minutes.

Cream of Morel Soup

1 lb. morels, finely chopped juice of 1 lemon
6 tbsp. butter
2 tsp. onion, chopped
1 garlic clove, chopped
salt, pepper
5 tbsp. flour
4½ c. beef broth
½ c. heavy cream

Sprinkle morels with lemon juice. Melt 2 tbsp. butter, add onion and garlic and cook until soft but not brown. Add morels and cook until juice is absorbed. Season with salt and pepper. Melt remaining butter, stir in flour, add beef broth. Simmer about 10 minutes. Add mushroom mixture and simmer additional 10 minutes. Add cream and correct seasoning if necessary. Do not boil.

Mycophagy is the eating of wild mushrooms or fungi. We will soon be able to buy morels in our stores, for a method has been discovered for producing morels commercially by growing in controlled conditions. Morel mushrooms have about 90 calories per pound, while the average button mushroom has 124. Even though mushrooms flourish in dark places, they contain a lot of vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin. Scramble morels with eggs for breakfast, chop them and add to gravy, make a morel sauce to serve atop a steak, cook them in spaghetti sauce, include them in a meatloaf, batter and deep fry them, freeze, dry, or can them. They only come once a year.

Eye Care News

Richard P. Ferrigan
Certified Optician

Q. What should I get for my money when I have my eyes examined?

A. You should get tests to determine how well you see at far and near distances; whether or not vision problems like nearsightedness, farsightedness or astigmatism are hampering your ability to see; how well your eyes work together as a team; and how well you can change focus from near to far and vice versa.

You should also get eye health tests, including one for glaucoma, if you are over 35 or have a family history of this disease. The optometrist also can detect signs in the eyes of general health problems like high blood pressure and diabetes.

There may be other tests, depending upon the results of the basic examination.

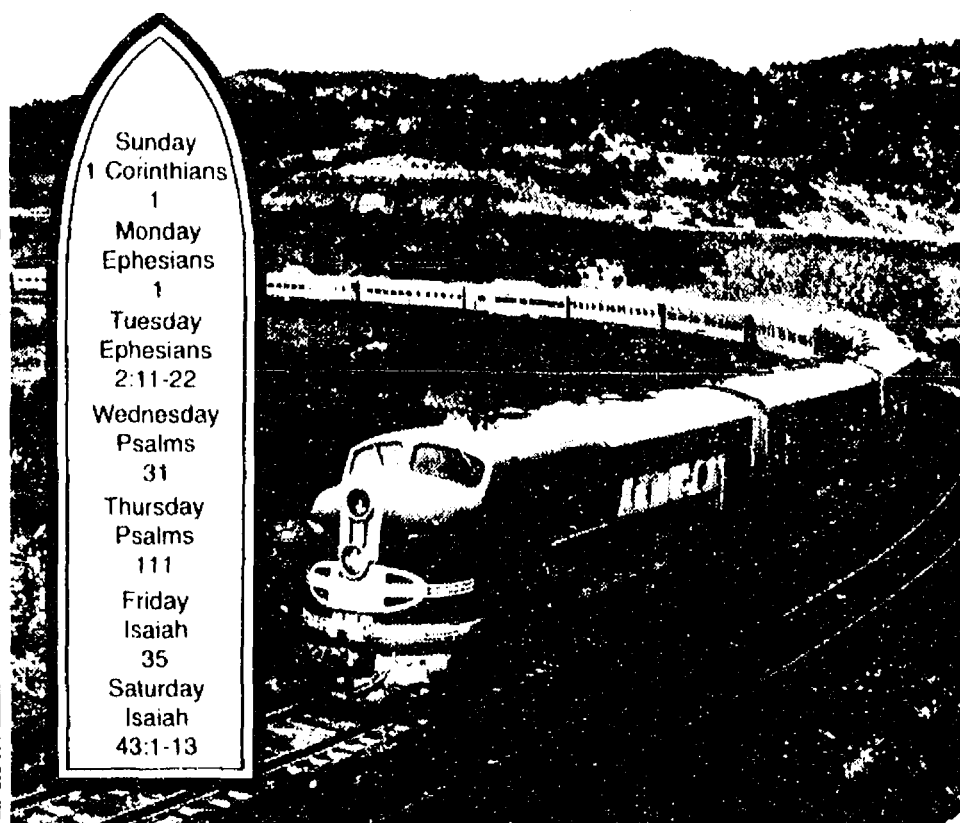

Expect all this to take from 30 to 60 minutes and be prepared to discuss your general health history.

Hitched To Nothing... Going Nowhere

Back in the days when trains moved America, three high-powered executives entered a fancy railroad car, got comfortable, and proceeded with their conference that involved high finance.

The porter approached them and asked that they move to the next car. They refused. Three times the porter returned and tried to persuade them to move, but to no avail. They told him in no uncertain terms they were staying in that car and absolutely would not transfer.

"Okay, have it your way," said the patient porter, "but this car ain't hitched to nothing and it ain't going nowhere."

Life gives choices, and it is so easy to choose fancy and comfortable surroundings, even to be involved in great conferences and conversations, but living with a lifestyle that "ain't hitched to nothing and ain't going nowhere."

Life's journey depends not only on WHAT WE DO, but also on WHAT WE'RE HITCHED TO.

The Gospel of John

Part #75
Being a Successful Christian
Jesus said, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father." The first premise for success is exercising personal faith in Jesus Christ as God and savior. Notice the works are the same in kind. "...the works that I do shall he do also..." What works did the disciples do more of than Jesus? It certainly wasn't miracles. Soul-winning is one possibility. Acts 2:41. The reason for this increased work was not personal faith, but the ascension of Jesus Christ. Christ promised His disciples success.

The second secret of success is the power of prayer. "And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son. If ye shall ask anything in my name, I will do it." (John 14:13, 14). To pray in Jesus' name we must pray in accord with the word, will, and work of God. This was the repeated practice of Christ in His own life here upon earth, and He will do nothing for you or me contrary to God's perfect will. Read Romans 8:26-28.

The third secret of success is loving practice of God's commandments in our daily lives. "If ye love me, keep my commandments." (John 14:15). Love is not a choice for a Christian. "If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha." (1 Cor. 16:22). Our motivation to love Him in His love for us. "We love him, because he first loved us." (1 John 4:19). Our love to Him is to be supreme. "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me; and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me." (Matthew 10:37).

The proof of our love for Jesus Christ is our obedience to Him. "For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous." (1 John 5:3). "But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him." (1 John 2:5). "He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him." (1 John 2:4). Obedience to Jesus Christ is not only a proof of our love, but even of our friendship. "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." (John 15:14).

Our failure as Christians is not the fault of Jesus Christ, but our own lack of faith, prayer, and obedience toward Him. To be successful, we must be His obedient disciples. (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

Frederic News

First Baptist Church will be losing their pastor, to the field. Pastor Ken Haley, wife Debbie and their three daughters, Becky, Naomi, and Effie will be going to Togo, West Africa. Pastor Haley brought us a lot of life and joy and also fellowship with the youth.

On Sunday, April 30, at 9:45 a.m. slides will be shown and after the morning service, 11:00 a.m. we will be having a dinner and fellowship. Bring a dish to pass if you like. Please come and join us. It will be a chance to say good-bye.

Jim and Brenda Hulbert and family were to his brothers for their grandmothers gravesite service and the families spent time with their grandfather. They also visited Brenda's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Alma.

Nancy Baldwin made the handmade crocheted bunnies for the children at the W.I.F. Easter Hunt event.

Summer Fun Topic For PTA Meeting

The final meeting for this year for the Crawford AuSable PTA will be held on Monday, May 1st, at 7:00 p.m. at the Middle School cafeteria. This meeting is open to the public and is entitled "Summer Fun Fare". Representatives from all of the organizations that sponsor summer activities for our area children will be on hand.

Entertainment will be provided by the Elementary School Choir under the direction of Peggy Emerick.

'Ida Day' At St. John

The congregation of St. John Lutheran had a special coffee hour after service on Sunday, April 16, in recognition of Church Secretary, Ida Stockmeyer. She has served in this capacity for 5 years, accepting responsibilities far exceeding her office.

Eileen Chappel furnished a beautiful cake with the inscription "We Appreciate You, Ida." With her were her husband, Herb, a son-in-law, 2 daughters, and 6 grandchildren. The children served the cake for Grandma.

Grayling Township Board

Regular Meeting April 11, 1989

Members present: Mike McNamara, John Medler, Ruth O'Mara, Monica Ashton, Arnold Stancil.

Members absent: None.

Guests: Jerry Terry, Sr., Gary L. Rousseau, Larry Ostrowski, John Keir, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hall, H.C. Raab, Robert Brady, Theresa Minnerick, Ken Cox, Cal and Sue Brenner, Rodger Anger, Skip and Sherry Hanson, Marion and Tom Welsh.

Supervisor Stancil opened the meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Motion by O'Mara, support by McNamara, to approve minutes of March 14, 1989 as presented. Ayes: all. Motion carried.

Motion by Ashton, support by McNamara, to accept treasurer's report from March as presented. Ayes: all. Motion carried.

CORRESPONDENCE: (No action required)

Fire Dept. Report 3/31/89, Sheriff's Dept. Reports: Dec. 1988, 1988 Annual, Jan. & Feb. 1989. Liquor Control Comm./S.D.M. application LeValley.

BUSINESS:

1. Citizens who wish to speak: Larry Ostrowski, H.C. Raab, Robert Brady, Rodger Anger and Jerry Terry, Sr., property owners within a proposed Special Assessment District to blacktop Michigan and Euclid Avenues at Lake Margrethe requested that the Board "move up" said project from the proposed 1991 date to the summer of 1989.

Supervisor Stancil explained that projects are handled according to dates petitions are submitted and there are five projects ahead of the Michigan and Euclid project. Under normal conditions the Road Commission completes two projects per year for Grayling Township as they also contract projects with the other Townships in Crawford County. An alternative would be to hire a private contractor which in the past has proven to be cost prohibitive to the property owners. There is a possibility one or more of the projects ahead of Mich. and Euclid might fail during the hearing process which would move other projects ahead in their turn.

The previously mentioned citizens also requested state funding be sought to defray property owners expense as the roads service McIntyre's Landing State Forest Campground.

Motion by McNamara, support by O'Mara, that supervisor request a minimum of two bids for blacktopping approximately 1 mile of Michigan and Euclid Avenues from private contractors using CC Road Commission specifications prior to the May 9, 1989 Township Board meeting. All ayes. Motion carried.

Motion by O'Mara, support by McNamara, to authorize Supervisor to seek additional funding for the Michigan-Euclid project from State and Federal sources. All ayes, motion carried. It is recommended concerned property owners do the same.

2. Motion by O'Mara, support by McNamara, to recess and go into public hearing regarding Portage Avenue blacktopping project. Motion carried.

The public hearing precedes a decision of whether or not to proceed with a proposed Special Assessment District to blacktop Portage Avenue at Lake Margrethe southeasterly from Oak Street. The petition currently contains signatures of 56% of the property owners of record fronting on Portage Avenue.

John Keir, Road Commission Engineer and County Drain Commissioner in attendance to answer questions regarding rainwater runoff, erosion and drainage problems. Current drainage budget is $5500.

Correspondence from Ken Smith and wife opposing project and Jean M. Wilson in favor of drainage problem corrected. Phone call from Dick Williams in favor of drainage corrected.

Citizens discussed unsuccessful attempts by residents to correct drainage problems which in some cases aggravated neighboring erosion or drainage problems. Some obvious solutions to drainage might contaminate the lake and are unacceptable. Catch basins are expensive and might require easements across private property.

Mr. Keir will survey the problem over the next 60 days. Citizens wishing to point out particular problem areas are asked to do so. A public hearing will be scheduled for the June 13th Township Board meeting at which time it is hoped a decision can be made on whether the problem can be corrected cost effectively.

Motion to close public hearing by Ashton/O'Mara. Motion carried.

Motion by Medler, support by McNamara, to proceed with Portage Avenue project and schedule a June 13 public hearing regarding cost and drainage. Stancil's request to abstain granted. Ayes: four, Nays: none. Motion carried.

3. Motion by McNamara, support by Medler, to accept the Grayling Township Planning Commission's recommendation and adopt Ordinance 89-1 (Case 88-3) as an amendment to Grayling Township Zoning Ordinance 83-4 which rezones the following described property to C-1 (General Commercial). Effective immediately upon publication.

Comm. 331 ft. N. of the SW cor. of the N/2 of the SW/4 of Sec. 4, T26N, R3W for a POB, Th. E. 400 ft. alg N. Down Rv. Rd. to the Ely R.O.W. of 1-75, Th. N. Ely 400 ft., Th. NE'ly alg N. Down Rv. Rd. to the POB in Sections 4, 5 & 8.

Ayes: five, Nays: none. Motion carried.

Motion by Medler, support by O'Mara, that notwithstanding the County Planning Commission's finding that inasmuch as our present Township Zoning Ordinance does not have a "Special Use" permit for commercial property as an option that the Board approve Ordinance 89-2 (Case 89-2) as an amendment to GTZO 83-4 as recommended by the Grayling Township Planning Commission particularly in light of the codicil which is to be voluntarily placed on the deed limiting the commercial use to that of a grocery/convenience store. The ordinance amendment rezones to C-1 (General Commercial) the following described property:

Lots 10, 11 and the SW 1/4 of Lot 9, Block 6 of Grayling Park Subdivision including all that part of vacant Maple Ave. contiguous to said parcel. Located on Grayling Ave., Lake Margrethe, Section 22, T26N, R4W.

Ayes: five, Nays: none. Motion carried.

5. Discussion of possible increase in fees for Zoning Board of Appeals and Planning Commission petitions.

6. Discussion- Refuse Transfer Station Appliance Day and cost reviews 1977-1988, 1989-1990 projections.

Motion by Ashton, support by McNamara to allow Township officials whose schedules permit to attend MTA District Meeting, May 17, 1989 at Grayling Holiday Inn. Ayes: five, Nays: none. Motion carried.

8. Motion by Medler, support by O'Mara, to appoint Linda Stephens as Grayling Township Planning Commission representative on the Grayling Township Zoning Board of Appeals. All ayes. Motion carried.

9. Motion by O'Mara, support by Ashton, to amend the 1988-89 General Fund Budget in the following categories:

Account Name	Account Number	1988-89 Original	1988-89 Amended	+ Increase - Decrease

Class of '69 Meets May 5

The GHS Class of 1969 will have a meeting on Friday, May 5, 7:00 p.m. at the Shepherd residence. The place and time for the reunion has been set- we will be working out some of the details. Bring your Glen's slips! Any questions, call 348-7751 or 348-2841, ext. 246.

Thank You

I would like to thank the doctors and all the staff of Mercy Hospital who cared for me during my recent illness. I was treated with so much compassion and kindness.

Thank you from the bottom of my heart, and may God richly bless you all.

Sincerely,
Helen Watters

Lions Club Starts White Cane Drive

This week-end April 28-29, the Lions Club will be having their White Cane Drive. This is a major fund raiser for the club. They need the support of Crawford Co. to continue to serve the seeing-impaired people of Crawford County.

In the past year the Lions purchased glasses for 20 local people. They are also helping with the Leader Dog Program. At this time, 28 of the dogs that were raised in our area, are on the street serving the blind. Only one dog that was raised here, has been rejected, for training. When you encounter the Lion Members this week-end, please be as generous as possible.
